YOUTH PROTECTION of the Boy Scouts of America

Youth protection requires sustained vigilance. That is why the BSA has continued to develop and enhance its youth protection efforts as everyone continues to learn more about the dangers and challenges facing youth. The BSA has established a multitiered youth protection approach focused on volunteer screening, education and training for everyone in the program, and clear policies to protect youth.

This is how it works:

ADULT VOLUNTEERS

STEP 1 Chartered Organizations Reference Check

Chartered organizations provide local insight and ongoing supervision. The involvement of local chartered organizations (churches, schools, or civic groups) helps ensure that volunteers are known and trusted in the community.

STEP 2 Application

STEP 3 Criminal Background Check

The BSA requires criminal background checks on all Scout leaders. The background checks are administered by LexisNexis, a nationally respected third party that also provides this service to many local, state, and federal governments; educational institutions; and other nonprofits.

STEP 4 Ineligible Volunteer File Check

The BSA's Ineligible Volunteer Files serve as a barrier to entry, preventing those who are believed to be unfit to serve as Scout leaders from joining the organization. An individual may be determined to be unfit for leadership for any reason, regardless of whether the accusations have been proven and whether or not the alleged misconduct happened in Scouting. Applicants are checked against the file, and if an applicant has been determined to be ineligible, they are not permitted to join Scouting.

STEP 5 Adult Leader Youth Protection Training

All adults who have been selected as potential leaders of youth by a chartered organization must provide references, past addresses, and other community affiliations, and affirm that they have had no criminal accusations made against them.

All registered adult volunteers are required to complete the BSA's Youth Protection training every two years. The training is available online 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

PARENTS AND SCOUTS

STEP 1 Parental and Scout Youth Protection Education

Parents and youth are required to review the BSA's Youth Protection materials, available at the front of every handbook, as a joining requirement.

STEP 2 Parental Policy Notification

Every application for youth membership advises parents about the basic principles of youth protection.

Every parent completing a youth membership form acknowledges awareness of the BSA's Youth Protection policies.

STEP 3 Empowerment of Scouts

h Prin parent or guardian.

Scouts are required to complete Youth Protection training before entering the program and as a requirement for rank advancement.

The BSA teaches the "three R's" of youth protection, which convey an important message in a clear manner easily understood by youth members:

- Recognize situations that place them at risk, how child molesters operate, and that anyone could be a molester.
- Resist unwanted and inappropriate attention. Resistance will stop most attempts at molestation.
- Report attempted or actual molestation to a parent or other trusted adult. This prevents further abuse and helps protect other children. Understand that you will not be blamed for what occurred.
